

Kylie has been a legal counsel for over 10 years in the State of Colorado. He is from Denver and has been married to his lovely wife, Lara, for almost two years. They have a dog named Roman and a baby on the way. He started volunteering with National Jewish Health because Lara's family has been involved, and he loves supporting such a great organization.