

Yuval is involved with National Jewish Health because as a child growing up in Israel, he suffered from debilitating allergies. He was treated by a doctor who trained at National Jewish Health, and is proud to give back to the institution.