Jake Cohn was born with severe asthma and spent much of his childhood in the hospital. For a while, it looked like he'd never lead a normal life. But then he came to National Jewish Health in Denver.

Thanks to our cutting-edge technology, groundbreaking research and expert care, Jake's spending his days on the slopes as a professional skier instead of in a hospital bed. Dear Friends,

Thank you for being a part of the 2016 Fund to Cure Asthma Golf Tournament. Through your attendance today, you are fueling our ability to pioneer medical advancements, provide compassionate care to all patients and train the next generation of leaders in medicine and science.

Every day, we hear from grateful patients who have spent years of their lives looking for answers to their complex medical conditions. They often tell us, "You were the only place that could help." Such words are a testament to our ongoing mission and the generosity of our donors.

We would appreciate the opportunity to show you in person what makes National Jewish Health the leading respiratory hospital in the nation. In addition, our website (njhealth.org) is a tremendous resource for information about the conditions we treat, our research and our world-class physicians.

Once again, we are appreciative of your support. On behalf of the dedicated faculty and staff at National Jewish Health, thank you for joining us at the Fund to Cure Asthma Golf Tournament. Best regards.

Sincerely yours,

THE FUND TO
Cure Asthma

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Thank you for joining us today for the 2016 Fund to Cure Asthma Golf Tournament. For 20 years, supporters of National Jewish Health have gathered at this event to raise funds for asthma research and care.

National Jewish Health, based in Denver, is the only facility in the world dedicated exclusively to the groundbreaking research and treatment of patients with respiratory, cardiac, immune and related diseases. Physicians and scientists at the institution have made cutting-edge discoveries that have improved the lives of patients around the world.

Now, people can access the hospital's unique model of care in New York through a partnership between the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai and National Jewish Health. Since opening in January 2015, more than 13,000 patients have visited the Mount Sinai – National Jewish Health Respiratory Institute in New York City. For more information, visit www.therespiratoryinstitute.org.

We would like to extend a special thank you to each of our sponsors and donors. Please page through this program and see all the supporters who helped make this event possible – many of whom are here today. Through their generosity, they are helping the millions of people who suffer from asthma.

Have a wonderful day, and thank you for supporting this important cause!

FTCA supports work at National Jewish Health, the leading respiratory hospital in the nation. We have broken ground with discoveries that impact and improve the lives of asthma patients around the world.

National Jewish Health is committed to educating the next generation of leaders in research and care. Through fellowships, lectures and publications, our faculty have provided knowledge for tens of thousands of professionals around the globe.
