Reducing Exposure to Waterborne NTM by UV Sterilization

1. Household plumbing is a potential source of NTM exposure.

2. Commercially-available UV water sterilization systems claim to kill waterborne pathogens.

3. Study question: Are UV-based systems effective against NTM?

4. Conclusion: Our data demonstrate a significant reduction in waterborne NTM numbers following UV treatment.