

Kunsberg Classic Dinner 2011

AUGUST 07, 2011

DENVER — Golfers from across the nation will gather August 7 and 8 in Denver for the National Jewish Health Kunsberg Classic, presented by RE/MAX, LLC and sponsored by Shanahan's. Funds raised will go to Kunsberg School, a tuition-free day school at National Jewish Health for 90 chronically ill students in kindergarten through eighth grade.

The two-day event begins with a private dinner on August 7 at Shanahan's steak and seafood restaurant. On August 8, participants will enjoy a day of golf at The Sanctuary, the exclusive, world-recognized course in Sedalia, Colorado.

The mission of Kunsberg School, which is mostly supported through donations to National Jewish Health, is to provide a safe, friendly and healthy school environment where students succeed academically, medically and socially. Typically, Kunsberg students have fallen behind their peers in school because of respiratory illnesses including severe asthma and/or allergies, sickle cell anemia, diabetes, HIV/AIDS and other disorders.

Kunsberg students receive care and learn to manage their illnesses from three nurses and National Jewish Health pediatricians. They eat nutritious meals, exercise daily and practice positive social interaction. The students learn in small classes from teachers with advanced degrees using the latest educational technology tools; they demonstrate their knowledge by showing steady improvements on the CSAP test and outpacing their peers in similar schools. Upon graduation, Kunsberg students have the skills to lead healthy, productive, meaningful and active lives.

Co-chairs of the National Jewish Health Kunsberg Classic are Eddie Robinson and Marc Steron. Committee members include Paulette Brody, Stanton Dodge, David Engleberg, Josh Hanfling, Michael Harms, Steve Kris, Brian Parks, Lots Pook, Scott Robinson and Meyer Saltzman.

Space is limited. For information about sponsorship opportunities or to register for the event, go to kunsberggolf.org or contact Michael J. Meyers at meyersm@njhealth.org or 303.728.6576.

The Sanctuary, owned by RE/MAX, LLC co-founders Dave and Gail Liniger, is one of the best and most exclusive courses in the United States. A place of refuge, preservation and nourishment, The Sanctuary is not just a golf course, but a golf experience. Players will revel in the innate beauty and inherent challenges of this exquisite course.
