

AIR Society Benefit at 4 World Trade Center Honors Michael A. Rodriguez, President of Alliance Build

Event to Support Nation's Leading Respiratory Hospital National Jewish Health

APRIL 09, 2014

NEW YORK, NY — Michael Rodriguez, president of Alliance Building Services and one of Crain's New York Business 40 Under 40, will be honored at the May 1 AIR Society "The Sky's The Limit" cocktail party benefit at 4 World Trade Center. The party, which supports groundbreaking research and treatment at National Jewish Health, features an open bar, guest DJ, dancing and a live auction. Tickets to the event are $500 each, or $200 each for professionals age 30 and younger, and are available online at airsociety.org.

Rodriguez, who began his career with Alliance Building Services as a nighttime supervisor, has served as its president during a time when the company has more than quadrupled in size, revenue and services. Alliance Building Services now employs more than 4,000 people in the New York City area. Rodriguez has received past recognition for his support of the Diabetes Research Institute and the Committee for Hispanic Children and Families Inc.

The AIR Society was formed in 1991 by Kathy Chazen; Michael Comras; Bruce Dobozi, MD; Keith and Stacey Locker; Jeffrey L. Rubin; and Roger Silverstein. The group inspires young professionals to engage in fundraising activities on behalf of National Jewish Health, the nation's leading respiratory hospital and a world-renowned research center. Since its founding, AIR Society members have raised more than $3.5 million to fund research, patient care and educational programs at National Jewish Health. AIR Society Benefit Co-Chairs are Justin E. Magazine, vice president at Savills, and Roger Silverstein, executive vice president of Silverstein Properties Inc. Honorary Chairs are Richard J. Mack, Mack Real Estate Group; Jason D. Pizer, Trinity Real Estate; and Peter G. Riguardi, Jones Lang LaSalle Americas Inc.
