

Allergy and Immunology Expert Dr. Eileen Wang Joins National Jewish Health

DECEMBER 20, 2016

DENVER, CO — Eileen Wang, MD, MPH, has joined the nationally recognized faculty at National Jewish Health in the Division of Allergy and Clinical Immunology. She recently completed her fellowship at National Jewish Health and University of Colorado. Dr. Wang will see allergy, asthma and immunology patients at the institution's main campus in Denver. She is proficient in both Spanish and Mandarin Chinese.

Dr. Wang received her medical degree at the University of Michigan Medical School. She served her chief residency at the University of Chicago. Dr. Wang holds a master's degree in public health from the University of Michigan School of Public Health. In addition to her clinical responsibilities, she will be involved in clinical research related to upper and lower respiratory conditions. Dr. Wang has been a subinvestigator on several published research papers and presented at a number of conferences.

National Jewish Health is the leading respiratory hospital in the nation. Founded 120 years ago as a nonprofit hospital, National Jewish Health today is the only facility in the world dedicated exclusively to groundbreaking medical research and treatment of patients with respiratory, cardiac, immune and related disorders. Patients and families come to National Jewish Health from around the world to receive cutting-edge, comprehensive, coordinated care. To learn more, visit the media resources page.

Media Contacts

Our team is available to arrange interviews, discuss events and story ideas.

William Allstetter
303.398.1002
allstetterw@njhealth.org

Adam Dormuth
303.398.1082
dormutha@njhealth.org