

Cardiologist Dr. Santi Yarlagadda Joins National Jewish Health

---

NOVEMBER 28, 2018

DENVER — Santi Yarlagadda, MD, has joined the faculty at National Jewish Health in the Division of Cardiology. She comes to National Jewish Health after completing her fellowship in Advanced Heart Failure and Cardiac Transplant at University of California, San Francisco. She specializes in treatment of patients with heart failure and will work to develop that program at National Jewish Health. Dr. Yarlagadda will see patients on the National Jewish Health main campus.

Dr. Yarlagadda received her medical degree at Albany Medical College. She completed her Cardiovascular Disease Fellowship at the University of Texas Health Science Center in Houston, and her internal medicine residency at Rush University Medical Center in Chicago. Additionally, Dr. Yarlagadda has participated in research projects and co-authored numerous publications.

National Jewish Health is the leading respiratory hospital in the nation. Founded 124 years ago as a nonprofit hospital, National Jewish Health today is the only facility in the world dedicated exclusively to groundbreaking medical research and treatment of patients with respiratory, cardiac, immune and related disorders. Patients and families come to National Jewish Health from around the world to receive cutting-edge, comprehensive, coordinated care. To learn more, visit the media resources page.

Media Contacts

Our team is available to arrange interviews, discuss events and story ideas.

Jessica Berry
303.398.1082
berryj@njhealth.org