

Gastroenterologist Dr. Arash Babaei Joins National Jewish Health

SEPTEMBER 27, 2018

DENVER, CO — Arash Babaei, MD, has joined the renowned faculty at National Jewish Health in the Division of Gastroenterology. He comes to National Jewish Health from Froedtert Hospital and Clement J Zablocki VA Medical Center in Milwaukee. Additionally, he served on the faculty as Assistant Professor of Medicine at Medical College of Wisconsin. Dr. Babaei specializes in esophageal disorders. He has authored more than 20 research papers and will conduct clinical trials at National Jewish Health. He will see patients on the National Jewish Health main campus.

Dr. Babaei received his medical degree at Tehran University of Medical Science in Tehran, Iran. He completed his clinical fellowship at Medical College of Wisconsin and his residency at Scripps Mercy in San Diego.

National Jewish Health is the leading respiratory hospital in the nation. Founded 124 years ago as a nonprofit hospital, National Jewish Health today is the only facility in the world dedicated exclusively to groundbreaking medical research and treatment of patients with respiratory, cardiac, immune and related disorders. Patients and families come to National Jewish Health from around the world to receive cutting-edge, comprehensive, coordinated care. To learn more, visit the media resources page.

Media Contacts

Our team is available to arrange interviews, discuss events and story ideas.

Jessica Berry
303.398.1082
berryj@njhealth.org